

Our work in the education sector

We're proud to be part of the Fair Education Alliance – working to make education in the UK fair.

We're delighted to be partnering with CPDBee – where schools come to discover the best leadership training.

We're long-term supporters of Teach First, as well as ambassadors of their Leadership Development Programme. We continue to work with them around developing wellbeing and resilience in schools.

We're also excited to be working with the new Leading Together programme – working to support resilient school leadership.
